200 Transports Begin Airlift of 2nd Armored

U.S. Demonstrates Power To Throw Punch Overseas

BERGSTROM AFB, Tex. (AP)—The Army and Air Force joined hands today in a historic demonstration of the United States' power to throw a quick fighting punch overseas.

The first of more than 200 air transports carrying the 2nd Armored Division to Germany in Exercise Big Lift left the runway at Bergstrom AFB near Austin at 11:57 p.m.

Minutes later other Military Air Transport Service planes took off from Gray AFB at Killeen, Connally AFB at Waco and Sheppard AFB at Wichita Falls with other troops of the Ft. Hood-based 2nd Armored and supporting units.

Largest in U.S. History

The airlift, largest in U.S. military history, continues until Thursday afternoon. Then the 2nd Armored will tangle with the 3rd Armored Division in mock nuclear war. The 3rd Armored, which plays the role of invader, is already in Europe.

As five troop-laden transports filled the air every hour from Texas bases, about 160 tactical planes were leaving from two bases in Maine—Loring AFB and Dow AFB.

The first to take off from Loring was a huge KC135 jet tanker of the Strategic Air Command. The tanker planes headed out to make refueling contact with supersonic F100s and F105s.

"The eyes of the world are on you," Gen. Paul S. Adams, chief of the strike command running the airlift of 16,000 soldiers and airmen, told the troops at Ft. Hood shortly before they boarded buses en route to the air bases.

Major Purpose Cited

U.S. officials have said the major aim of Big Lift is to demonstrate to this country's allies and to the Soviets an ability to reinforce swiftly the forces facing the Communists along the Iron Curtain in West Europe.

"We're ready to go," said Maj. Gen. Edwin H. Burba, commander of the 2nd Armored.

Hurricane Ginny, cavitating off the Atlantic Coast, changed part of the flight plans. Some flights originally scheduled to fly to Germany by way of Bermuda and Azores turned to the northern route over Greenland and Scotland.

The exercise is the largest long-range airlift of armed men in history. Its total cost is estimated at $20 million, including payment for 6½ million gallons of fuel needed for air transports alone.

Burma estimated the transatlantic transfer of 14,500 division soldiers and supporting artillery and truck troops, plus 116 jet fighters and other planes with hours and 40 minutes.

Sea movement of the 2nd Armored and its more than 27,000 tons of equipment would take about four weeks. That does not include time needed to load and unload if the heavy gear was not already in depots west of the Rhine River.

A total of 202 transports carried the Army troops with 29 other planes stationed at various refueling points for use if any troop carriers should break down en route.

Strike May Hit Plumbing Trades

Local 87 of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry has called a district-wide strike, to go into effect at midnight tonight.

The labor dispute is with the Youngstown Association of Plumbing and Heating Contractors over the beginning of a new health and welfare program, explained John Kelly of Lisbon, spokesman for the union.

He said the strike would affect 550 plumbers and fitters in the area which includes Columbiana and Mahoning counties and parts of Trumbull and Hancock (W. Va.) counties. Negotiations have been under way for two and one-half months in an attempt to get the plumbing industry to include health and welfare program benefits in a new work contract.

AIR BRIDGE TO EUROPE — Troops of the 2nd Armored Division from Ft. Hood, Tex., board a C135 Military Air Transport plane at Bergstrom AFB in "Operation Air Lift." The men are part of 15,358 combat troops flown to Europe in three days in the largest military air lift ever carried out in such a short time.

Truce on Cold War Believed Ended

Diplomatic Fronts Expected To Warm Up Again Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expect the diplomatic fronts—both in the East and the West—to begin warming up again.

They feel that the relatively long period of calm during the limited nuclear test ban talks with the Soviet Union and during the changes of government in Britain and West Germany is over.

But no real drama is expected, nothing like the U.S.-Soviet crisis over Cuba a year ago.

The truce on the cold war is believed here to have ended with this recent series of happenings:

Soviet troops blocking American and British convoys on the Berlin autobahn; the Soviet attack on the planned NATO multilateral force; and Izvestia's bitter comment on Exercise Big Lift, the U.S. experiment in transporting a whole division across the Atlantic by planes.

With the seeming end of the thaw, U.S. foreign policy experts figure the Kremlin will:

—Prod the West with tangible reminders that the Berlin issue is still alive.

—Seek opportunities to split the Western allies;

—Continue to seek understanding with the United States on pending issues, especially on minor ones.

The more peaceful activities will consist of talks on a variety of topics, ranging from negotiation on purchases of wheat to missile submarines. Now 13 are in commission.

The Soviet Union and Cuba face a much stronger and more alert United States than they did on the night of Oct. 22, 1962, when President Kennedy declared to the nation: "I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventuality."

Through the summer of 1962 the United States was aware of a military buildup in Communist Cuba, but its proportions and offensive nature came as a surprise.

Rebuffed Red China's U.N. Bid Rejected Again

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations has again rejected membership for Communist China in a vote hailed by the United States as a clear indication of opposition to the Peking regime.

The vote Monday constituted another victory for the United States in its battle to keep Red China out of the world organization. It was the 14th time the General Assembly has either rejected or sidetracked Peking's admission.

The 111-member General Assembly defeated an Albanian-Cambodian resolution to seat Peking and oust Nationalist China, 57-41 with 12 abstentions. Ethiopia, which voted for admission last year, was absent. Passage of the resolution would have required 74 votes, a two-thirds majority.

Last year the vote was 56 against and 42 in favor, with 12 abstentions.

Small Voter Turnout Here Expected Nov. 5

Interest Lags As Election Nears

The absence of local levies and questions on the ballots and the campaign apathy evinced so far by candidates of both parties indicates a light city vote at the Nov. 5 general election two weeks away.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, who is seeking his fifth non-consecutive term, heads the list of Democrats who have candidates for all city offices except solicitor and Second Ward councilman.

The Republicans have a full slate, thus assuring re-election of Solicitor Thomas H. Coe and Second Ward Councilman Charles Gibbs, a teller at the First National Bank. Both are completing their first term in office.

Cranmer's opponent will be Nathan Harris, who operates the Roy W. Harris & Son Printing firm. Harris is making his initial bid for political office.

Rudolph M. Linder, a former councilman and council clerk, seeks to unseat Ford Joseph Jr., Democratic incumbent, as Council president.

Linder is a sales manager of the Salem China Co. Joseph, manager of a drycleaning establishment, is seeking his second term in office.

Auditor Helen Coyne, GOP incumbent completing her third successive term, will be opposed by Donald W. DeJanc. The latter is an engineering clerk at the Eljer Co. and an active member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In the treasurer's race, George C. Equizi, assistant cashier at the Farmers National Bank, opposes Democrat Donald H. Matthews Jr., director of a market research firm. The treasurer's job is now held by James Criswell, Republican, who declined to seek re-election.

Republicans John E. Rance, Joyce S. Wilson and Ralph K. Zimmerman are candidates for the three council-at-large posts, opposing James G. Aldom, S. Eldon Yates and Virgil E. Klepper.

Rance, incumbent, is seeking his second term. Zimmerman, a veteran Fourth Ward councilman, is running for an at-large post this year because of a desire to serve as a councilman for all city residents. Wilson has not held political office before.

Rance is personnel director of the E. W. Bliss Co.; Zimmerman is advertising manager of the Electric Furnace Co.; and Wilson is an employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Aldom, a restaurant proprietor, is an incumbent who previously served one year as Council president. Klepper is an employee of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., and Yates is a diemaker employed by the United Tool & Die Co.

Albert Lesch, Democratic incumbent, is opposed by Robert G. Hanna for the First Ward Council post. Lesch, who is completing his second term, is an employee of the Eljer Co. Hanna is employed by the Electric Furnace Co.

For the Third Ward Council post, Democrat Harold J. Astry, incumbent seeking his 10th term, faces Thomas B. Smith, treasurer and plant manager of the Pittsburgh Foundry & Machine Co. Astry operates a dental laboratory.

Michael Schuller, a former councilman and president of Council, seeks the Fourth Ward Council post against Democrat Robert C. Straub, a Mullins Manufacturing Corp. employee. Schuller is personnel manager of the Mullins firm.

Two other contributing factors portend a small voter turnout here: 1. voting customarily falls off in the so-called "odd-year" elections, and 2., only one issue is to be decided state-wide. The state question is the $250 million capital improvements bond issue.

Three countywide levies will be decided. They are renewals of two existing taxes, fifty-five hundredths of a mill for child welfare and forty-hundredths of a mill for tuberculosis care, and a new levy of twenty-five hundredths of a mill, also for child welfare.

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—The arraignment of David H. Zirwas, 28, on a first-degree murder charge has been continued indefinitely. William Hewitt, lawyer for Zirwas, said Monday he was not ready to enter a plea for his client until he knows the results of medical tests.

Zirwas was declared mentally incompetent in Probate Court here in 1959 and has not since then been declared mentally competent by the court. Hewitt said. Zirwas is accused of the fatal shooting in Niles Sept. 19 of Benjamin Krawiecki, 42, of Youngstown.

Joseph Schaffer Joins Board At Washingtonville

WASHINGTONVILLE — Joseph Schaffer, a plastering contractor employee, was sworn in as a member of the Board of Public Affairs at the regular meeting of village council Monday night.

Mayor William Radler administered the oath. One seat still remains vacant on the public affairs board.

Council held a general discussion on the problem of infiltration of surface water into the sewerage system but reached no conclusion on the method of correcting the situation. The mayor said the infiltration from Little Beaver Creek in sewer lines along Boston St. has almost doubled the amount of material handled by the disposal plant.

The seepage arose when the sewer line at the east edge of the village was installed two years ago four feet below the water table.

Council's next regular meeting will be held Nov. 4.

The other two board members, Robert Campbell and Dr. Ralph Starbuck, have two more years to serve.

Powerless Vessel Still Riding Storm

By The Associated Press

The Navy destroyer escort Foggy, caught in the whiplash of Hurricane Ginny, rode 25-foot seas today without engine power. Two Coast Guard vessels standing by her off North Carolina reported her 10-man crew was safe.

A decision on what to do about the Foggy awaits weather developments, a Coast Guard spokesman said in New York.

The 306-foot decommissioned vessel had drifted south in the Atlantic about 70 miles since breaking loose from her tow Saturday night.

The Coast Guard cutter Casco reached her Monday night, after the Foggy was spotted by a Navy hurricane-hunter plane.

The Casco, a 311-foot patrol gunboat, was joined by the cutter Chilula in standing watch within 1,000 yards of the Foggy, reported about 100 miles east of Cape Fear, N.C.

Shortly after daybreak, the Coast Guard said the Chilula had reported that seas were moderating, but there was no indication when or if the 205-foot ocean-going tug would attempt to get a line to the Foggy.

The center of Hurricane Ginny was about 60 miles northeast of the ships, the Coast Guard said. Although the Foggy was only on the fringe of the season's seventh tropical storm, she was taking a beating from the winds.

The Coast Guard said latest weather advisories indicated that Ginny, packing 80-m.p.h. winds extending 50 miles in all directions from the center, may drift to the southwest, bringing

Senate Okays $1.9 Billion College Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed and sent back to the House an amended $1.9-billion college construction aid bill. But prospects for final enactment still are uncertain.

Long-time supporters of such federal outlays noted that while both branches passed a college bill last year the final compromise product worked out in conference died in the House. But they said there appear to be more favorable factors this time.

The Senate gave a solid 60-19 vote to the bill Monday, with 41 Democrats and 19 Republicans favoring it, while 11 Democrats, all Southerners, and 8 Republicans voted no. The House passed the bill 87 to 113 Aug. 14.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., chief sponsor of the legislation in the House, said she was hopeful the measure could be sent to conference promptly.

There is one big difference in the two bills, an issue growing out of the church-state relationship.

The grant funds in the Senate bill could be used only for buildings intended for instruction or research in natural and physical sciences and engineering and for libraries. The House

N. Dakota Counties Pick Congressman

Election Eyed As Clue To Farmers' Sentiment

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—National leaders of both parties watched closely today as voters in 23 eastern North Dakota counties chose a congressman in a special election.

The result of the race between Republican Mark Andrews and Democrat John Hove is expected to provide a clue to electoral sentiment in farm areas.

Andrews, 33, rancher and former GOP national committee man was a slight favorite in the traditionally Republican district. His political future was regarded as being on the line after his 2,007-vote loss to Democratic Gov. William L. Guy last year.

Viewed also as a threat to Andrews is the candidacy of John Scott, 61, wealthy farmer-banker from Gilby. Scott decided to run as an independent because he said the Republican convention did not nominate a candidate conservative enough to suit him. He has denied being a member of the John Birch Society but has attacked both regular candidates as too liberal.

Hove, making his first bid for office, had Gov. Guy running interference for him during the brief campaign. Hove, 47, is a university English professor who made much in his talks of having spent the first half of his life on a farm.

Andrews, using the defeat of the wheat referendum earlier this year, has banged away at the Kennedy administration's farm, economic and foreign aid programs. He has been a constant critic of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Andrews favors crop controls but at county levels.

Hove, generally backing Kennedy policies has been reluctant in his speeches to identify himself with Freeman. He, too, favors a voluntary system of controls but has not spelled one out in detail.

Ohio's electric companies "share" electricity ...

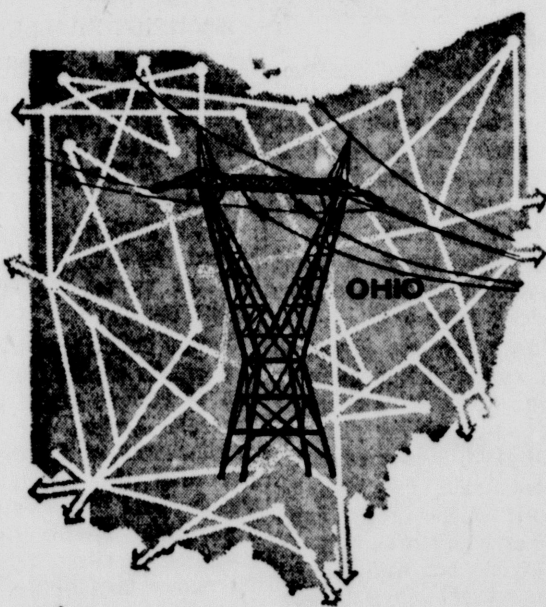

...It helps us serve you better!

Interconnections tie together the electric companies serving Ohio. This large network of service lines, which includes interconnections with many other states, greatly increases the dependability of your electric service. Started more than 30 years ago, these interconnections are being expanded as growth requires.

Sharing electricity in this fashion is another way we serve you better. Sharing helps keep electricity low in price, too. One reason: There's no need to build large stand-by facilities.

Ohio is a key state in the biggest of the nation's power pools—a group which includes 119 utilities serving 31 states!

It's a fine example of what can be accomplished by investor-owned companies helping each other in a neighborly manner to serve you better!

Let's Not Blame Tito

President Josip Broz Tito's visit to the United States is a signal for most of us to hold our noses because of his Communist odor.

But let's not blame Tito. The president of Yugoslavia never professed to be anything but a Communist. He never deceived the United States. He never flew false colors.

If his presence here is offensive to American sensibilities, he cannot be blamed for being what he always has been. The blame belongs on the United States for wanting to believe he was something else so much it made a fool of itself.

In 1948, Tito shook the Cominform to its secret dungeons by serving notice on the Kremlin it was taking no orders from Moscow about the Communists line; that he, Tito, regarded Communism as a matter for local autonomy.

This was a sensation. It was discussed more breathlessly 15 years ago than the revelation this year that Red China and Red Russia had fallen out over conflicting views of Communist ideology. It seemed to signal the beginning of the end for Communist discipline.

BY 1950, the United States was snuggling up to Tito, hoping to pry him loose from the Communist bloc. Or to be frank, it was hoping to buy him away from the Communist bloc.

It snowed him under with proffers of stop-gap aid, long-term aid, loans, gifts, groceries, military hardware, friendship, eternal love and what have you. This never ceased. It's still going strong. Tito is a shrewd operator. He knows how to milk the Yankee cow when the pressure is on.

Can this hard-nosed realist who runs Yugoslavia be blamed for making the most of his opportunity? Can we criticize Tito for making hay while the sun shines on him and his poverty-ridden country? Isn't this what the head of a government is supposed to do every where but in the United States?

Tito isn't the only one to reap the benefit of the U.S. fixation that it can buy allies, even if they are ideologically incompatible. It has done the same thing with Franco in Spain, the one-time Axis stooge.

Franco can't be blamed either. Men like him and Tito, though ideologically separated, are brothers in expediency. Like Barnum, they take advantages of human nature when opportunity knocks.

AS FAR AS the United States is concerned, opportunity not only knocks. It jingles.

We don't admire Tito for working both sides of the street. But then, on the other hand, we don't admire our government for accommodating people who work both sides of the street, whether it's Tito of Yugoslavia, Franco of Spain, or that family of bad Nhys in South Viet Nam.

Church, State and Taxation

A discussion until recently thought unthinkable is almost certain to expand in the near future.

A woman who was one of the plaintiffs who succeeded in getting the U.S. Supreme Court to rule out state-dictated prayers and Bible reading in public schools is laying for the churches.

Mrs. Madalyn Murray, the Baltimore head of Other Americans Inc., an organization devoted to atheist causes, is suing in her own state and a half dozen others to have courts lift present tax exemptions on religious properties.

One or more of the cases will climb the appeals ladder to the U.S. Supreme Court, the same court that ruled against prescribed prayer and prescribed Bible reading.

PROPOSALS similar to Mrs. Murray's have come from the churches, themselves. The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, chief administration officer of the United Presbyterian Church, and a former president of the National Council of Churches, published a little over four years ago an article in which he noted complaints of antireligious groups to the effect that exemption of churches from taxation had been carried to the point of being concealed form of tax support.

Pointing out that churches pay no inheritance tax, since they do not die, that they may own and operate businesses and not pay the 52 per cent corporate income tax, and that real estate used for church purposes is tax exempt, Dr. Blake suggested "it is not unreasonable to prophesy that with reasonably prudent management, the churches ought to be able to control the whole economy of the nation within the predictable future."

Dr. Blake suggested that churches consider repeal of tax exemption on non-church business activities, contributions in lieu of taxes to municipal governments for services rendered and examination of business activities to make sure they are not unfairly competitive with fully taxed religious business.

THE PENNSYLVANIA Supreme Court in January 1960 ruled that church parking lots were not exempt from property taxes, even though no charge was made.

A federal court in August 1961 ruled that the Christian Brothers Winery, operated by a Roman Catholic order, had to pay almost $3½ million in back taxes.

These are isolated cases. Exemption for religious and charitable bodies remains a headache for many tax authorities—particularly those of municipalities which already have raised general property taxes to desperation levels.

Our Newsboys

Many a successful business executive is always happy to point with pride to the days of yesteryear when he was a newsboy. And so it will be with some of our present Salem News carriers whose enterprise, initiative and self-reliance will carry them far into the land of challenge and opportunity where their early business training will prove to be an important foundation stone.

It is fitting during the current observance of National Newspaper Week to pay special tribute to our newsboys who perform an important public service, whether in rain or shine or the chilly blasts of winter.

By Truman Twill

unable to carry on a brisk scrimmage with a 10-year-old.

Or the fellow who has botched up everything in his life that mattered but is hell-bent on making something tremendous out of toothpicks.

Or, to get back to the point, the politician who keeps looking for something he can do to reflect glory on himself because otherwise he will go into history as a footnote—a passing reference.

ALL THIS has crossed the minds of Americans since moon-shot madness began to sizzle and pop. We have only one good reason to strap ourselves to pay for a journey to the moon and back. We don't want the Russians to beat us to it.

But if we could be sure the Russians also were seeing the folly of wasting so much wealth when so many things remain to be done on the earth—right here in the United States—we'd dump the project.

We're sick of it.

We think the people backing it are frustrated, like mountain-climbers. But no one is proposing that the rest of us put up cash for the mountain-climbers. They're on their own, as they should be. Let 'em climb.

We think moon-shooters should go as far as they can go on their own resources, which would take them about 10 feet off the ground—in the light of a full moon.

Out In The Open

By VICTOR RIESEL

Copies of two cables sent into the United States from powerful personalities in Eastern Europe are in the hands of our internal security people.

They consider the messages evidence that Chairman Khrushchev has decided this is the moment to upgrade the American Communist party in its international scheme of things.

These unique messages from behind the Iron Curtain are also interpreted as evidence of Mr. Khrushchev's eagerness to build another ally in his vendetta against the Chinese of Peiping. This means to insiders that the Soviets plan to pump more money, more manpower, more guidance into the American Communist movement to make it more acceptable during its recruiting drives inside labor and among the youth.

These cables are birthday greetings to Ben Davis of New York, who is considered by our government to be national secretary of the CPUSA.

But these are not ordinary birthday greetings. They are dispatched by men who usually reserve their enthusiasm for heads of state. One cable came from none other than Walter Ulbricht, first secretary of the Socialist Unity party (SED) central committee of East Germany.

ULBRICHT RUNS the Communist section of divided Germany without bothering to put his iron hand in any glove, much less in velvet which is scarce. If Khrushchev's nose twitches, Ulbricht sneezes. He took time recently to cable Ben Davis that:

"On behalf of the German Democratic Republic working people and all patriotic elements of our people, the SED Central Committee conveys to you cordial congratulations and fraternal greetings on your 60th birthday. We wish you, the fighter for the cause of the American working class . . . for peace . . . and socialism many more years of successful work."

There was more to this message. But equally as startling was the fact that the powerful Todor Zhivkov, first secretary of the Bulgarian Communist party central committee, was also instructed by Moscow to dispatch a cable saying: "To us Bulgarians your name is indissolubly linked with the noble cause of the emancipation of the American working class . . .

"Your devotion to this cause, your unflinching faith in the triumph of Marxist-Leninist ideas as well as the manliness and valor with which you resist rabid anti-Communism . . . evoke profound admiration in every Communist and in all working people in Bulgaria."

THE CABLES were addressed to Davis as "secretary of the national executive committee of the U.S. Communist party."

The use of this title by East European Communist party chiefs is significant. The party has been declared a Communist-action organization "substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Soviet Union."

As national secretary of this American Communist party, Ben Davis must under the law register with the U.S. government.

Davis has refused to register. He has been arrested and indicted. His trial is scheduled for Oct. 29th. But it will undoubtedly be postponed because there must first be a ruling handed down by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington on the nature of the Communist party itself.

The Court of Appeals has now had the Communist party matter before it for four months but has not moved. Thus the Communist party and its leaders are free to operate—in utter defiance of laws which have already been upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Without quaking in fear of it, or insinuating that it will seize some state capital tomorrow, it can be reported that the party's impact now is far more than would be expected from a movement of 9,000 formal members.

IT HAS BEEN instructed to come out in the open—during my recent trip to the Midwest, I heard of meetings which are attracting hundreds of people.

In New York a birthday banquet for Ben Davis drew more than 800 partisans on Oct. 6. The United States was denounced; Castro's Cuba was praised; Khrushchev was hailed.

Some $3,500 was raised—virtually all of it in cash. Thus the Communists function openly. Yet no one can trace the party's flow of cash. Not even the Internal Revenue Service which has been trying to collect from the CP for some time.

Thus the Communists—though many are under indictment and their party has been convicted in the criminal courts—move swiftly to exploit the new "co-existence" which chairman Khrushchev is peddling.

Change In Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A major change in American military and foreign policy is under way. It's developing gradually. The objective is to maintain Allied unity and yet decrease the expense for the American people with respect to the maintenance of U.S. troops in Europe, which costs about $1 billion a year. This country has spent at least $50 billion for the defense of Europe since World War II ended. There still are more than one million Americans—soldiers and their families—stationed overseas.

The first step in changing policy is in the form of a test whereby an armored division of 15,000 men is airlifted from the United States to Germany within 72 hours. Theoretically this might mean that American troops could be withdrawn from Europe and dependence placed hereafter on the quick transport of divisions by air. But that's not the present purpose. Rather it's to demonstrate that, if the Western Allies build up their own troop divisions, the United States could be depended upon for prompt reinforcements in an emergency. Virtually all of the American divisions on duty in Europe might then be withdrawn, but this isn't the present intention.

The main idea now is to persuade Western Europe, which has 250 million population and a booming economy, that the time is at hand to begin taking over more of the military load and expense from the United States.

What does all this mean in the face of the growing realization that a nuclear war means mutual suicide? First, when the treaty banning certain nuclear tests was signed recently, the military strategists did not stop thinking of the prospect of war.

Second, they became even more concerned over "limited war," a term applied to the use of conventional forces and weapons.

THERE IS a realistic recognition of the fact that recurring friction is potentially capable of producing armed conflict. The problem will be to keep "limited war" from becoming "unlimited."

Gen. Eisenhower during his two terms as president of the United States considered preparations for "limited war" as secondary and emphasized instead a buildup of nuclear weapons. Today that result has been fully achieved, and there's a nuclear stalemate in the world. Mr. Eisenhower said last week that American forces in Western Europe now could be reduced to one division.

The Pentagon disagrees. Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell Giloatic, in a speech last Saturday, declared that while American troops might be withdrawn, there is no intention of making such a drastic cut as Mr. Eisenhower suggested.

The truth is that the Western Alliance is in trouble. It lacks unity. Some of its members, like France, show a tendency to develop independent or isolated policies. In fact, Gen. de Gaulle predicts that the United States eventually will militarily pull out of Europe and he offers this possibility as an excuse for wishing a separate nuclear force and for refusing to sign the partial test-ban treaty.

Indeed, the French president now is reported to be flirting with the idea of recognizing the Communist regime in Peiping. This in itself would add to the disunity. It looks as though it's a kind of trading maneuver to get nuclear help from America.

THE UNITED STATES, therefore, cannot at this time give the impression that it is getting ready to withdraw its military forces from Europe altogether. To do so would discourage the West German government, which has 12 divisions on duty and is contributing thereby its full share in the military defense of Western Europe.

The question really is how long the Bonn government can depend on De Gaulle policies. Unless a sizeable army of French troops is on active duty, the Russians could sweep across the northern sector of Europe and overrun France.

A helpful but not necessarily controlling argument used by the government here in talks with European leaders is that the United States has been steadily losing gold to pay for its military expenses abroad and that the imbalance in the outflow of gold is creating a serious threat to the future of our monetary system.

So the experimentation in policy making goes on, and this week sees the first of several moves designed to convince Western Europe that America could withdraw some of its troops and still get its forces overseas promptly if an emergency develops.

The United States has not yet been able to influence Gen. de Gaulle to become co-operative. Will the airlift operation give public opinion in France a dramatic assurance of the prompt aid that can be forthcoming from America at any time or tend to confirm the point recently made by the French president that the United States cannot be depended upon indefinitely to protect France?

THE MAKERS of U.S. foreign policy will have to reach some kind of understanding with the president of France before military policy can become definitive and permit the expenses of the United States to be materially reduced.

Maybe Gen. de Gaulle's much-talked-of visit to Washington in a few months will furnish the about a turn for the better in the tenuous relations existing today between France and the United States.

Today In History

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 23, the 296th day of 1963. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1904 a Russian battle fleet fired on a British fishing fleet off the Dogger Bank in the North Sea. The incident nearly led to war between the two nations.

On this date in 1641 the Great Irish Massacre took place with an estimated 30,000 persons put to death by the English.

In 1776, Gen. George Washington's troops withdrew from the island of Manhattan during the American Revolution.

In 1929, the New York stock market was knocked down five billion dollars in a deluge of selling which tumbled one stock 96 points.

In 1956, students and workers in Budapest Hungary, began an unsuccessful revolt against Soviet rule.

Ten years ago — The White House announced that 1,456 persons had been removed from federal payrolls during the first four months of the Eisenhower administration's national Security program.

One year ago — The United States charged in the United Nations that Russia had converted Cuba into a Soviet bridgehead and staging area in the Western Hemisphere.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a recent graduate of New York University who was elected to the society of Phi Beta Kappa.

Last evening I attended a wedding shower for a friend and I wore my Phi Beta Kappa key on a chain around my neck. One of the girls took me off to the side and told it was ostentatious to wear the key around my neck. She said it belonged on a charm bracelet.

My first reaction to her criticism was resentment. I decided she was jealous and I dismissed it from my mind. Now I'm beginning to wonder if perhaps she is right. May I have your opinion, please?—YONKERS.

Dear Yonk: I'll bet the girl who stuck in the shiv has no Phi Beta Kappa key—and if she had one, she'd probably wear it embedded in her forehead like an Indian jewel. Congratulations. A round your neck is just fine.

Work and Marriage

Dear Ann: I believe I've read every column you've ever written but I don't recall that you've ever dealt with the problem of married couples who work in the same organization.

Because of two married couples in our office the place is up for grabs. The top muckymuck in my department married the chief bookkeeper's assistant and now she is out of the office about 40 per cent of the time—on full pay. When she does come in she's out of touch.

The second married couple are known as the happy warriors. They alternately hit each other and mush it up at the water cooler, behind the file cabinet or wherever they happen to be when the mood hits them. Their shenanigans are distracting and annoying.

Will you kindly review this problem in print and give us your views?—DISTRACTED AND ANNOYED.

Dear D and A: I can't come out flat-footed and say that married people should NEVER work in the same organization, since some couples manage this arrangement well.

For the most part, however, it is a poor idea, not only for the reasons you mentioned but because too much togetherness can put a dead hand on any relationship.

Dancing Mother

Dear Ann: I'm 22, divorced and the mother of three small children. My ex-husband has no interest in the children. I support them and myself.

The problem is this: My only recreation is dancing. I go to a nice night club once a week from 9 p.m. until 2:30 a.m. My brother drives me over and comes back to take me home. I never date any of the men I meet there. I only dance with them.

My aunt says I have no business going to this place. I see nothing wrong in it. I work all day and this is the only fun I have. What do you think about it?—SANDRA.

Dear Sandra: Sorry, but I can't tell a 22-year-old mother of three children it's all right to stay it to a night club.

It well may be that YOU are looking only for a dancing partner but most of the men who frequent such places are good-time Charlies who are looking for a pickup. If this is "the only fun you have" I can tell you right now nothing good will come of it.

Ann Landers will be glad to chit up with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Halloween comes once a year. Kiddies love it. They will knock at your door and say trick-or-treat?

Know what that means? After having been a chaperone for the last six years (Yes, Mike and I always go with our kids) I have found that none of the children expect expensive things when they knock on your door.

Know what they want? You are supposed to be real surprised, comment on their costume (and that's "the most," because every child has looked forward to this day, hoping he will outdress his buddy) and if you see a real "child-made" costume say, "Just who is that?" They will all laugh.

Even though you know who Johnny or Jane is... never let them know. They will love you for it.

Now, as we are the ones who must supply the treats, let's find an inexpensive way.

Cookies (whether homemade or store-bought) smash, crack and crumble when dropped into that sack or bag. So why bake all day, and then have them discarded when the kids get home?

HAVE YOU ever thought about popcorn? Just pop some and put a bit of it in little individual sacks. These may either be put in waxed paper sandwich bags and the top twisted, or wrapped in little squares of paper and tied.

If you have the time and inclination... try making popcorn balls. Kids love these. They are inexpensive, and also you will have fun making them yourself. They last for days and will ordinarily not be discarded when the child gets home.

Here is the recipe for making popcorn balls that I have used for years:

After popping the corn, measure five quarts out (use a fruit jar!) and place it on a cookie sheet. Place the cookie sheet on the middle shelf in your oven at 300 degrees to keep it warm and crisp while you are making your syrup.

Put the following in a big pan:

2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups water
1-3 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup light corn syrup.
Cook this to a hard boil stage (about 256 degrees if you have a candy thermometer). Or use the old stand-by method of dropping a few drops of the cooked syrup in a cup of cold water. If you can put your finger in the water and the little droplet is hard, and you can push it round in the water without dissolving... it's nearly done.

Then add one teaspoon of vinegar and a teaspoon of vanilla and cook a little more. Test again by above method. This will look like a thick syrup. Cook all of this VERY slowly. You don't want it to scorch.

POUR ALL the warm popped corn in a big vessel or mixing bowl.

SLOWLY pour the mixture of syrup over the popped corn in a very THIN stream, stirring all the while with a big GREASED spoon so the luscious syrup can get thoroughly mixed among all the kernels. We COATED with the syrup.

Let sand a few minutes and in the meantime get out some margarine and GREASE YOUR HANDS well. This is a must as we don't want the corn sticking to our hands when we press the corn balls.

When cool enough (you'll know!) pick up a handful of the syrup coated corn and squeeze it into LITTLE balls. Set aside to cool in wax paper. They are darling!

NOT ONLY do the kids love 'em but so will mama and papa. This recipe has been varied over the years I have used it. If you are going to really go hog wild (and who knows you just might) and want some for yourself when company comes or for our own family, vary it by adding flavoring! Wow! Cherry flavoring, maple flavoring, etc.

Real good when watching TV, or when you need that snack later.

My mother often put cocoa in the sugar when making the syrup. This makes wonderful chocolate balls.

And don't forget that food coloring can be added to our water when making the syrup! Sure makes for pretty popcorn balls. Try adding a few drops of red coloring when making cherry-flavored syrup. Or yellow coloring when making lemon (imitation lemon flavoring, grated lemon peel and a few peanuts or pecans) balls.

Also NEVER make these popcorn balls too big. The SMALLER the BETTER. Golf ball-size is the best. They can be eaten with dignity! Look lovely on any tray and go further.

Carol Ann Townsend Bride In Church Rite

White snapdragons and mums decorated the altar barked with palms, fernery and grape ivy for the 2:30 p.m. wedding Saturday uniting in marriage Miss Carol Ann Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Weister Townsend of the Damascus Road, and Walter Loren Neff, son of Mrs. Alfred A. Neff of Xenia and the late Mr. Neff, in the sanctuary of the First United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Bruce Milligan officiated at the double ring ceremony and Marshall Bailey presided at the organ console.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a floor length gown of delustered white satin with scoop neckline enhanced with Alencon lace with the fitted bodice extending into a front skirt panel. The long sleeves ended in wrist points and the bouffant skirt swept to a chapel-length train. A cluster of matching material flower petals held her bouffant veil of illusion and an arrangement of white roses and white carnations topped the white Bible she carried.

Her sister, Wendy, served as her maid of honor and wore an afternoon length sheath gown of Biarritz blue satin peau with detachable bouffant overskirt. A matching Dior double bow headpiece with bouffant veil and colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white feathered carnations completed her ensemble.

Captain Robert A. Neff, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and another brother, Donald R. Neff, ushered, together with John R. Townsend, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Townsend, mother of the bride, wore a teal blue crepe dress and Mrs. Neff a mint green silk dress. Both mothers had corsages of yellow roses and white feathered carnations.

Miss Mayetta Pheasant, college roommate of the bride, registered the 50 guests who attended the reception in the church Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. Out of state guests were from Indiana, Michigan and Pennsylvania.

A nosegay of white pompons and carnations topped the cake which centered the table of the bride. Miss Susan Sprunger and Miss Margaret Stinson, class-mates of the bride, and Miss Mary Neff, aunt of the bridegroom, served.

A graduate of Salem High School, the new Mrs. Neff is a senior in the School of Nursing, Ohio State University.

Mr. Neff is a graduate of Ohio State University and is employed by Winters National Bank and Trust Co. at Dayton.

Mrs. Alfred A. Neff was hostess at the rehearsal luncheon Saturday noon at the Lape Hotel.

Out of town guests were entertained at dinner Saturday evening at Timberlanes by Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, parents of the bride.

ing season were: Vice president, Mrs. William Washington; secretary for her second term, Mrs. Gus Schuster, and treasurer, Mrs. Jack Tinsley. These officers will be installed in a special dinner meeting in November.

A lighted Jack-O-lantern flanked with orange tapers in crystal holders decorated the refreshment table. Mrs. Thomas Jackson was hostess.

The next regular meeting will be in January.

MEMBERS OF Salem Jayceettes may bring guests to the meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. office.

MOTHERS OF ALUMNI members and students of Ohio State University are invited to attend the Mothers Association noon luncheon Wednesday at the Women's City Club in Youngstown. Following the luncheon they will attend the local artists show at Butler Institute. Registrations may be made with Mrs. Alfred Balke of Columbiana.

MISS LUCILLE BAKER of Jennings Ave. was a Sunday dinner guest of Miss Phyllis Amato of Wellsburg, W. Va.

MRS. AUBREY CAIN was welcomed as a guest when members of the Towerview Homemakers Club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. James Berg of RD 2, Salem.

Mrs. Cleon Kelly presided and plans for the annual Christmas party Dec. 14 and the children's party Dec. 13 were made. Mrs. William McCormick and Mrs. Gerald Stayton were appointed to be in charge of the children's party.

Following the business session Christmas candles were made and luncheon served by the hostess.

Salem Will Try To Even Record Against Boardman

Spartans Lost First 2 Games

Then Shut Out 4 Of Last 5 Rivals

Salem (3-4) has a chance to even up its season's football record when it takes on a strong Boardman unit at Reilly Stadium Friday.

It won't be any easy task for the Quakers, who were handed an 18-6 upset by the Spartans last season.

Most of that same Boardman aggregation will be on hand for the clash this week, which includes 17 lettermen with plenty of size and speed.

After dropping the first two of the season to Austintown Fitch, 28-20, and Youngstown South, 16-6, Boardman has rolled to five straight victories.

FOUR OF THE LAST five were shutouts. Youngstown North scored a TD in a 28-8 loss to the Spartans.

Starting for Boardman will be 10 seniors and one junior Tom Crago, a 188-lb. tackle.

At ends, Coach Steve Sonoga goes with Don Cornwell, 134 lbs., and Gary Bartholomew, 192 lbs. The other tackle slated for duty is Rick Wolff, 224 lbs.

Drawing the guard assignments are John Evans, 167 lbs., and Andy Snyder, 184 lbs. Greg Shasby, 164-lb. athlete rounds out the forward wall.

In the backfield, Tom Tracy, 153 lbs., engineers the Spartans' smooth "split T" offense. He is very effective with the option series.

FLANKING THE SIGNAL caller are halfbacks Don Ross, 160 lbs., and Bob Mead, 168 lbs. At fullback, Boardman has hard running Bill Hays, 168 lbs., ready for action.

The Spartans have blanked Campbell Memorial, 10-0; Brookfield, 40-0; Girard, 8-0; and Hubbard, 28-0.

Salem, flashing its most potent offense all season in the 40-26 victory against Wellsville last Friday, plans to polish up the attack and gear its defenses for the tough Boardman team.

Coach Don Clarico could have run up the score against the Tigers but he began to empty his bench in the early stages of the third stanza.

The Salem coaching staff plans to put the Quakers through similar workouts this week that they tried prior to the battle with the Tigers.

McCarver Named Top NL Sophomore

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Tim McCarver, named Monday the National League's outstanding sophomore of 1963, says the honor caught him completely by surprise.

"I just feel wonderful," the 22-year-old St. Louis Cardinal catcher said. "I'm really honored—well, I'm just at a loss for words."

McCarver, who is attending the University of Oklahoma, said he had been so busy catching up with classwork after enrolling late that "baseball had sort of left my mind. I've been hitting the books pretty hard."

He is majoring in business.

McCarver received 20 votes in the balloting by 44 baseball writers. Lou Brock, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, was second with six votes, followed by Donn Clendenon, Pittsburgh first baseman, four votes, and pitchers Denny Lemaster, Milwaukee, three each.

McCarver, a 6-1, 190-pounder, started the season as the Cards' no. 3 catcher behind Gene Oliver and Carl Sawatski. Oliver was traded to Milwaukee in June, and McCarver passed Sawatski to become the No. 1 catcher.

In 127 games, McCarver batted .289, with 12 doubles, seven triples and four homers included among 117 hits. He batted in 51 runs and was the only Cardinal besides Bill White to hit a grand slam homer.

Texas Retains No. 1 Rating In AP Survey; Pitt Is 3rd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Texas Longhorns, who kept Arkansas from breaking up their marriage to the No. 1 spot in college football, are out-to make sure that Rice won't interfere with an extended honeymoon.

The Longhorns were voted the top major college team in the country for the second straight week Monday in The Associated Press weekly poll of a panel of sports writer and broadcasters. Texas drew first-place votes on 50 of the 53 ballots.

The Longhorns completely outdistanced second-ranked Wisconsin in the voting despite a 17-13 squeaker over the Porkers from Arkansas. The Badgers, 10-7 winners over Iowa, drew the other three votes for the top spot. Texas wound up with 527 points, Wisconsin 470.

Illinois Selected Fourth

Pittsburgh was third in the voting, Illinois fourth and Mississippi fifth, followed by Alabama, Oklahoma, Auburn, Northwestern and Navy. Ohio State, fourth a week ago, dropped out of the Top Ten after a 32-3 loss to Southern California and Georgia Tech, eighth last week; went out after a 29-26 loss to Auburn.

The Longhorns will be facing a tough assignment this Saturday night in the Rice Owls, who tied Texas 14-14 last year at this same stage of the season. That knocked the Longhorns from the No. 1 position they also held at this time last year.

Panthers Battle Middies Next

The other members of the elite — with the exception of idle Auburn — also may be in for stiff competition this week on a program headlined by the meeting between Pitt's third-ranked Panthers and Navy's 10th-rated Middies.

Wisconsin faces Ohio State, Illinois takes on UCLA in a Friday night game, Mississippi meets Vanderbilt, Alabama tackles Houston, Oklahoma plays Kansas State and Northwestern goes against Michigan State.

The Top Ten teams with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

2. Wisconsin (3) 470

Fairborn Grid Coach Has Answer For Band

FAIRBORN, Ohio (AP)—Fairborn High School Football Coach Lloyd Williams has the perfect answer to those who would rather watch the marching and than his Flyer team in action.

Fairborn's unimpressive record so far this year of one victory against five defeats and a tie caused one fan to comment recently that the band's half-time performance was the only thing worthwhile to watch last Friday night.

To that Williams says: "They wouldn't be so hot either if someone were trying to take their instruments away from them while they're playing."

Massillon Replaces Niles As Top Unit In AP Poll; Red Dragons Drop To 3rd

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon's Tigers, winners of more than any other team, shrugged off an early season 13-6 loss to Akron Garfield and climbed to the top of the Associated Press high school poll today.

The Stark County powerhouse, winner of the title and the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy nine times since the ratings were inaugurated in 1947, used a 74-0 victory over Struthers to vault from third to first place as 51 sports editors participated in the voting.

Leo Strang's Tigers made it by the most narrow of margins, however, nosing out Springfield South's seven-game winners by a mere trio of poll points on the 10-9-8 etc. basis. Last week's leader, Niles McKinley, was idle over the weekend and skidded to third place.

It was a three-way race for the crown as Massillon amassed 281 points, Springfield South 278 and Niles McKinley 270. Niles polled the same number last week in leading the list by 33 over Springfield and 35 over Massillon.

Springfield South triumphed 54-8 over Portsmouth. Sandusky, leader two weeks ago, rebounded from a deadlock with Findlay to defeat Elyria 26-14 and retained fourth. The rest of last week's Top Ten held their same spots, with Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Akron Garfield, Cleveland St. Ignatius, Dayton Roth, Wilmington and Alliance completing the list in that order.

This and that:

Tigers Use 55 Players

Massillon used 55 boys in the rout of Struthers, and the 36-point second quarter was the best in its history. A dozen Tigers figured in the scoring.

Waverly halfback Bob McKenna rushed 268 yards in 17 tries, scored five touchdowns and kicked two extra points in the 60-12 triumph over Lucasville. Centerville, which had lost six in a row, broke into the victory column 30-26 over Hillsdale — and quarterback Gary Wingo was the one-man gang responsible. He scored three touchdowns and a two-point conversion, and with only two seconds to go passed three yards to Nelson Jackson for the winning touchdown.

Utica's Red Vernon, 170-pound senior fullback, is averaging better than 51 yards on 14 Mount Vernon's sophomore halfback, played only one half but scored 20 points for a season total of 98 in the 46-6 conquest of Delaware Haves.

Scores 5 Straight TD's

Springfield scored the first five times it had the ball at Portsmouth, and turned the chore over to the reserves in the second half.

Lima Shawnee, 7-0 and with a 20-game unbeaten streak, gained 482 yards in beating Kenton 66-12. The latter team had only two first downs but scored on a 95-yard kickoff return by Jerry Sweet and a 96-yard pass interception return by Tom Ehlen.

Port Clinton, playing an out-of-state team for the first time, allowed Bedford, Mich., only one first down but lost 14-13. The invaders scored on a 75-yard kickoff return and a 29-yard fullback play.

Dover St. Joseph snapped Fredericktown's 11-game victory streak, 12-6, as fullback Roger Lammers gained 154 yards in 25 carries. He now has 702 yards for 108 tries—and 80 points.

Mansfield's Tigers beat Marion Harding 40-18, the biggest point total they've run up in 63 games. The Tigers completed only four of 11 passes—for 48, 34 and 12 yards—and all went for touchdowns.

Cardington Shows Improvement

Cardington, a 106-0 loser to Buckeye Valley last week, did a bit better Friday. It bowed to Highland 51-12—in the season's most unusual contest. Players had quit the Cardington team in such numbers that only 14 were available, so unhappy Coach Henry Schroth — loser of seven straight—came up with an idea. By agreement with Highland there were no kickoffs or punts. At the start of each half the coin-toss winner got the ball on the 20-yard line. After touchdowns the other team got the ball on the 30. Instead of punting, the ball was moved up 30 yards. Everyone seemed to enjoy the whole thing.

Speed Budnick of Baltimore Liberty Union has scored 138 in seven games, and three foes have wound up with minus yardage. Greenfield was blanked for the first time this year as Wilmington won 34-0 for its seventh of the year and 12th over two seasons.

Canton McKinley's Arnie Fontes scored three touchdowns and passed for four others in the 60-0 victory over Steubenville's Big Red. Of four touchdowns scored against Springfield South, only one has been against the varsity.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—How 51 sports editors, 32 from newspapers and 19 from radio-TV stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Shown are the first-place votes in parentheses: the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the won-lost-tied records of the leaders.

Two NFL Powers Meet At Stadium Sunday

Cleveland Coach Collier Feels Browns To Face Tougher Giants

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns feels the New York Giants should be a tougher opponent Sunday than they were two Sundays ago because their pride was hurt in that defeat.

"A team that has lost feels it has to make up for the defeat," Collier said Monday. "and pro-football teams have pride. The team which has won doesn't have quite as much incentive."

New York remaining two games behind the leading Browns in the National Football League by defeating the Dallas Cowboys as Cleveland battered the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday.

New York Coach Alie Sherman wants to win this one badly, but he doesn't feel it is a "must" game.

"No game is a 'must' game unless you're down to the last few with time running out," Sherman said. "It just puts unnecessary pressure on a team. Obviously it will make it a lot tougher for us if we lose this one. The players know that."

The Browns said 10,000 general admission tickets for the Giants game will be on sale from 5 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at Municipal Stadium only. Remaining tickets will go on sale Thursday morning.

Tarleton Sets Record; Salem Cross Country String Snapped

In a terrific race, Salem's John Tarleton outlasted Tom Sack of North Canton to set a new course record as the Quakers' senior distance star was timed in 10:17 in a cross country meet at Warren Monday.

North Canton took meet honors, handing Salem its first loss in 10 meets.

Bill Carter, veteran Salem two-miler, didn't compete in the event. The senior athlete, who had beaten Tarleton in three earlier meets, was unable to participate because of an illness.

He had run a 9:42 race earlier this campaign, which is believed to be a new Salem School mark.

Four members of the winners' squad finished in the first 10 places, and the Vikings' fifth boy placed 11th.

Other schools in the meet were Harding, which finished with 79 points, and Canton McKinley, which came in with 58. Tom Pim was fifth for Salem. His time was 10:38. Following him was Wilson, 11:02; Hippely, 11:03, and Stoddard, 11:36.

Sack pushed Tarleton to his new mark. The North Canton athlete finished two seconds behind in 10:19.

Bill Dimit came in fourth for the Vikings in 10:32. He was followed by Charles Tift, 6th in 10:39; Cropley, 10th in 10:56; and LeCount, 11th.

Birsee Ross of Canton McKinley was fifth, while Ben Miles placed seventh and Lehigh, ninth for the Bulldogs. Warren's Larry Evans finished eighth.

Parents Grid Club Will Meet Tonight

All parents are urged to attend. Plans for the future will be discussed.

TENNIS ANYONE?

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Seven years after Shirley Fry gained No. 1 ranking in women's tennis, her home city is naming tennis courts for her.

When Akron wanted to name its Mason Park courts in her honor in 1956 she wrote City Council president Ralph Turner: "I would not like to see my name placed on a nicely painted fence that encloses nothing but weeds."

Akron is using some of its tax money to build the "proper public tennis court facilities" at Mason Park.

Noting this, the now-retired Shirley—who lives in Connecticut with her husband and four children—agreed to have the courts named for her.

Olson Eyes Title Shot, Wins Easily

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"At my age, I would like to take a shortcut to the (light heavyweight) title," said 35-year-old Bob Olson Monday night after winning an easy decision from Argentina's Jose Menno in Keszar Pavilion.

Olson, who didn't have much more hair when he lost the middleweight title some eight years ago, showed the 2,818 fans that he still knows how to find the body with left hooks.

Olson, 176, kept his left hand in Menno's midsection for most of the 10 rounds, occasionally crossing over with a right. The 175-pound Argentine won the first round, but almost drew a blank thereafter.

There were no knockdowns, but Olson, a former Hawaiian now fighting out of San Francisco, had Menno in trouble in the eighth round when he draped the loser over the middle strand.

Referee Frankie Carter scored the fight 7-2, judge Tony Bosnich had it 6-1 and judge Bob Mitchell scored it 7-0 under California's five-point round system in which the winner of a round gets from one to five points and the loser none with no points given fighters in even rounds.

Roach To Guide Packers' Squad

Fills Vacancy For Injured Bart Starr

By JAK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quarterback Bart Starr's injury thrusts a back-breaking burden on John Roach, a 30-year-old bench warmer in Green Bay's bid for a third straight National Football League title.

Roach, who has completed only two of seven passes as a stand-in for Starr and has had three intercepted, joins King Hill and Lamar McHan as former Chicago — now St. Louis — Cardinals who suddenly have become No. 1 quarterbacks.

Hill moved into the front row at Philadelphia after Sonny Jurgensen suffered a right shoulder injury in Sunday's game with Cleveland. McHan, cut loose by the Baltimore Colts, finally decided to join the San Francisco 49ers and passed them to their first victory of the season Sunday, an upset over the Chicago Bears. He replaced the injured John Brodie.

Starr suffered a broken right hand in the Packers' 30-7 victory over the Cardinals. He was injured in the third period when he ran with the ball and was bounced out of bounds by the Cards' Jimmy Hill.

A fist-swinging incident followed and Hill was put out of the game. The injury to Starr's hand reportedly occurred when he hit the ground before the fight. Hill claimed Starr had kicked him while both were on the ground.

With Starr out for possibly six weeks, Coach Vince Lombardi found himself with only Roach, a 6-foot-4 former Southern Methodist ace, as his lone quarterback. Roach had been drafted No. 3 by the old Cardinals in 1956. He spent the next two years in the service but saw plenty of service in both 1959 and 1960. Traded to Green Bay in 1961, he threw only 16 passes in two years before this season.

Although Starr has been erratic this year and has been intercepted 10 times, he has thrown eight touchdown passes and completed 50.7 per cent of his tosses. It was Starr, generally conceded to be an underrated quarterback who led the Packers to the league championship in 1961 and 1962, beating the New York Giants in the playoffs.

Lombardi prefers to concentrate on one quarterback, giving the signal caller control of the offense. In such a situation the No. 2 man, Roach, had little chance to play.

Starr's injury probably will assure a tight race down to the wire in the Western Conference of the NFL where the Packers and Chicago Bears are tied for the lead with 5-1 records. After losing the opener to the Bears, Green Bay came back and won five in a row.

Ohio State Faces Big Task Saturday, Awaits Invasion Of Nation's No. 2 Squad Wisconsin

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, still smarting from the worst defeat in Coach Woody Hayes' 13-year regime, return to the Big Ten wars Saturday—and they couldn't have picked a more prestige-backed foe for their comeback attempt.

Wisconsin's conference champions, winners of four straight and ranked second in the country, will be hosts to the Ohioans who hope to rebound from the devastating 32-3 setback at the hands of Southern California.

Hayes, in a short chat with press luncheon guests Monday, said the big problem in getting ready for the Badgers was a mental one rather than physical.

"We didn't get banged up physically against Southern Cal, probably because we weren't doing much," he said.

Badgers Were Upset In 1962

The canny Buckeye tutor has engineered quite a few upsets, and he could do it again Saturday. A year ago Ohio pinned a 14-7 loss on the Badgers, who came to town with a four-game winning streak against the Buckeyes' 2-2 record. That was the lone blemish on Wisconsin's record until Southern California's national champions nicked the Badgers 42-37 in the Rose Bowl. In fact, in a dozen games against Hayes, Wisconsin has triumphed only once and tied twice along with nine losses.

The Southern California margin was the greatest suffered by Hayes in 114 games, and marked only the fourth time that a foe had gone over the 30-point scoring mark.

So Woody wasn't too happy in his press luncheon talk.

"I don't have much to talk about," he said. "We won't get anywhere living in the past, so we'll forget about Southern Cal. We took about as bad a whipping as we've ever taken. The game was like a nightmare."

"We had our chance early and we muffed it."

Bucks Muff Early Chance

Early in the game Ohio had the ball on the one-yard line, fourth down, and elected to try a field goal instead of going for the touchdown. The kick was missed.

"We have to get our attack moving," Woody went on. "Our own defense is under attack so much that it tires. We just have to keep the ball longer."

"We know we have a big job on our hands Saturday, for Wisconsin probably is the best team in the country."

In Madison Monday night, Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn said his Badgers are concentrating on Ohio State and not on their No. 2 rating.

"We know we have a tough team to take on in the Buckeyes," Bruhn said. "We are thinking only about that game and not how we stand in the nation."

"We are in pretty good shape, and if we can correct some of the errors that cropped up in our close game with Iowa last week, we should do all right." (The Badgers edged Iowa 10-7).

No Major Changes Planned

Bruhn said he planned no major lineup changes for the Ohio State game. He said he was not certain whether veteran fullback Ralph Kurek would be in top form for the game. Kurek saw some limited action against Iowa because of a sprained ankle.

Left-handed Harold Brandt, Wisconsin's signal caller, has completed 42 of 78 passes for 485 yards. And Jim Jones, successor to All-America end Pat Richter, has caught 14 passes for 265 yards and 2 scores. In the last two games Jones has snagged long-range aeriels for gains of 46, 25, 31, 40 and 35 yards.

The Bucks will fly to Madison Friday morning and work out in the afternoon. With a victory and a tie in two conference starts, the Ohioans must win this one or forget about titles and Rose Bowl bids.

DOUBLES AT SCIENCE—Cincinnati Reds' catcher John Edwards has his eye on the ball for the after-baseball years, too. Holder of a degree in ceramic engineering, he's shown, above, in his off-season job at GE's nuclear materials and propulsion operation division in Cincinnati.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Putting Safety Into Hunting

No true sportsman would shoot a cow, but each year between 1,000 and 2,000 hunters will get shot despite the fact that there is no open season on human beings. Often a hunter is wounded through careless handling of his own gun. All such accidents can be prevented if the following rules are observed:

Don't load your gun unless you are out to shoot, and don't shoot unless you know what you are shooting at.

Don't point your gun at anything unless you intend to shoot it.

Always carry your gun in such a way that if you should trip and fall an accidental discharge of your gun would hit the earth.

Do not release the safety until you are ready to fire.

UNLOAD YOUR GUN before you climb over a fence, climb up a tree, jump a stream or run, because it may go off if you drop it.

You should not carry a loaded weapon in your car and you should never fire from a moving vehicle.

Keep your ammunition in a safe place, preferably under a lock and key.

Don't let children handle your gun. If your son is old enough to use a gun, see that he learns how to use it correctly.

IF ONE OF your party is shot accidentally, the first thing to do is stop hemorrhage. The victim should be moved to a car on a cot or improvised stretcher. Great harm can be done by moving a person who has a broken bone without first applying some sort of splint. Remember that a slow, gentle journey will give the victim a better chance of recovery than a rough hasty one.

Most rural doctors are well trained in treating accidents, so don't bypass them to rush the victim to a big city. Rest and prompt treatment to prevent shock are what he needs most at first.

THERE IS ANOTHER hazard that is frequently attributed to hunting but which is really coincidental. That is the sudden heart attack. Since such attacks are the dramatic culmination of a chronic disease that has been slowly progressing for years, the mere fact of hunting should not be blamed.

Even on a hunting trip the attack is more likely to come on while the victim is sleeping or resting under a tree than when he is unusually active.

NON-FICTION

THE CROSS AND THE SWITCHBLADE by David Wilkerson. A minister tells of his experiences after he has felt God call him to New York to try to help the teen-age gangs there. On his first trip to New York, he accomplished nothing and went home discouraged. But he returned and found means to help a few young people. Finally his work has grown to a teen-age evangelistic crusade.

THE ESSENTIAL LIPPMANN edited by Clinton Rossiter and James Lare. A comprehensive selection from Mr. Lippmann's many published works, this has as its aim the condensation of the ideas of this much-admired political thinker who has been publishing for fifty years.

THE UNITED STATES AND CUBA by Robert F. Smith. A historian analyzes the relations between Cuba and the United States from 1917 to 1960. He points out the many errors in our policy, also points the way for future action.

HOW TO GET AN EXECUTIVE JOB AFTER 40 by Charles S. Miner. This is a detailed analysis of how to assess your capabilities as an executive, gives examples of how-to, and what is sometimes more valuable, examples of how-not-to write a description of experience. The author states there are a great many executive jobs coming along constantly, and that a man with experience only needs to be able to describe it accurately in order to be able to capture one of these openings.

THE MISEDUCATION OF AMERICAN TEACHERS by James K. Koerner. This book is the result of a two-year study of teacher-training institutions all over the country. There is little doubt that there will be screams of indignation from a good many sources at the trend of conclusions—but perhaps the thing he wishes to achieve—better education for teachers in order to have better education for all Americans—may just get a little forward push from his work.

PET NAMES by Jean E. Taggart. There is a list of suggested names for almost any kind of pet one might wish to acquire in this book of almost 400 pages. Names for each kind of pet are arranged alphabetically and by country of origin.

THE LURE OF THE CLOCK by D. W. Hering. This is chiefly an account of the James Arthur collection of clocks and watches at New York University. There are descriptions of each clock and watch which ought to be helpful to collectors.

EMBATTLED CRITIC by John Canaday. The art critic for the New York Times reproduces here some of his material that has appeared in the Times and in other periodicals. He is noted for calling the shots as he sees them, and often his aim is deadly indeed. Of interest to Salemites will be the little piece on Charles Burchfield.

LANDSCAPE PLANNING by Better Homes and Gardens Magazine. This helpful guide progresses from consideration of what you have to what you need to making the plan. It takes up both construction ideas and planting ideas and altogether provides a wealth of suggestions for improving the home landscape.

CAREERS AND OPPORTUNITIES IN COMMERCIAL ART by J. I. Biegeleisen. This volume brings out the vast array of types of talent that are used today in the general field of commercial art. Such various careers as typography, illustrating, poster artist, cartooning, designing, packaging, stage designing, advertising art and government use of artists are included.

TWENTIETH CENTURY AM-

ERICAN POETRY edited by Conrad Aiken. In this new edition there are eighty one American poets represented. They range from Emily Dickinson to Robert Frost and from e. e. cummings to Marianne Moore, together with many others not so well known.

LATIN AMERICA by William Lytle Schurtz. The author lived for sixteen years in Latin America and traversed its many regions over and over. He gives the history, government, economy, way of life and international relations of the area as a whole rather than country-by-country.

FRANCIS BACON by Catherine Drinker Bowen. Miss Bowen is a painstaking researcher and her biographies always have in them a solid framework as well as the sparkle of her fine writing ability. Of all the well-known figures of the time of Elizabeth I, Bacon is perhaps one of the most deserving of interest.

SIXTY-FIVE PLUS by Clarence B. Randall. Although this is written for retired persons, the author believes that one needs to be thinking about it and preparing for it long before that time. He lists a number of things which he or other people have found worthwhile and enjoyable occupations for retired people.

THE ENIGMA OF THE STIGMATA by Rene Biot. An eminent French physician presents an account of the two most commonly held views on the appearance of the stigmata. The book is one of a series called The Twentieth Century Encyclopedia of Catholicism.

WHO NEEDS PEOPLE? by Robert E. Cubbage. The Associate Editor of Newsweek who specializes in labor and business affairs discusses the problems brought about by automation and other technological changes - and what we ought to be doing about it.

THE FAR RIGHT by Donald Janson and Bernard Eismann. Two journalists write of the John Birch Society, the Minutemen, other rightist movements and people who direct them and are associated with them.

John Godwin. This is not a history, as such, but the story of this maximum-security prison through the years as recounted in episodes which took place, notorious men who were imprisoned there, and the few on the staff who took a deep and sincere interest in the welfare of the prisoners.

THE NEW WORLD OF NEGRO AMERICANS by Harold R. Isaacs. The author tries to assess the impact of the great changes in Africa and Asia on Negroes in the United States, and to portray what the Negro thinks of himself, his country and of Africa. He held many very long interviews with outstanding Negro Americans, and many more less lengthy interviews with Negroes who are not leaders.

THE COMING EXPLOSION IN LATIN AMERICA by Gerald Clark. Mr. Clark sets forth the forces and personalities which have moulded Latin America. He then analyzes the mistakes the U.S. has made in our policy toward their important area, the changes we are making now, and the drastic further changes we will have to make if the explosion he sees coming is to be averted. The enormity of the problem can be judged by one sentence in which he says that nearly one half of all the city dwellers in South America live in conditions worse than those now obtaining in Shanghai.

INSIDE THE NUCLEUS by Irving Adler. Here Mr. Adler presents in non-technical language the many recent discoveries about the atom nucleus, what it is composed of and what makes it react as it does under certain circumstances.

THE NEW FIELD BOOK OF AMERICAN WILD FLOWERS by Harold William Rickett. Over 700 meticulous drawings by the author, plus several pages of color photographs illustrate this competent guide to the wild flowers of the northeastern and north central regions of the United States.

THE WORLD OF FLYING SAUCERS by Donald H. Menzel and Lyle G. Boyd. The two authors are scientific researchers who have spent quite a lot of time tracking down the evidence about some of the best-known sightings of unidentified flying objects. They believe that there are natural causes which could explain all of the sightings, and list what they probably are.

MARCH TO CALUMNY by Albert D. Biderman. This is a study of the behavior of American prisoners of war in Korea. He has concluded that the men were not nearly as bad as they were pictured, and gives the reasons he believes this. The book is highly documented all the way through, and should be of interest to many people.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Life may begin at 40 — but more than half the people on earth today haven't reached their 26th birthday. It's a young folks' world.

We think we have a parking problem, but Britain has even more crowded roads — one car to every 38 yards of highway, street and country lane.

Starting about 1850, Amelia Bloomer crusaded unavailingly until her death in 1894 to make "bifurcated garments" popular with the ladies. While her famous bloomers evoked snickers, she finally has won her point. America now produces 75 million pairs of woman's slacks and shorts a year.

Nature's burglar: The skunk is so "light-fingered" it can rob a sleeping hen of her newly hatched chicks without waking her.

Six million Japanese have taken up golfing. Nippon now has 308 courses, and ranks third in the sport behind the United States and Great Britain.

Our quotable notables: "My life has been happy because I have had wonderful friends and plenty of interesting work to do." — Helen Keller.

The alarm clock isn't new. It has been around since 1787. One-way streets aren't of recent vintage in this country either. Manhattan had them 'way back in 1791.

You can win money from your bartender by betting him he can't name the man who invented the first U.S. voting machine. It was Thomas A. Edison.

Educational bargain: The $10,000 or so it costs to get through college is still a sound investment. Insurance companies estimate a college degree adds from $175,000 to $200,000 in lifetime earnings to the average graduate.

How they got started: Brigitte Bardot was a model. Nikita Khrushchev was a coal miner. Opera singer Joan Sutherland worked briefly as a secretary. Actor James Stewart hauled bricks.

Ever wonder why skinny people seem able to eat more than their chubby brethren and still not gain weight? A Danish scientist believes the reason is that, lacking the protective layer of blubber found on fatties, they burn up the excess calories keeping warm.

It was Ed Wynn who observed, "What this country needs is a good five-cent nickel."

DEMOCRATS TO MEET
All Democratic party candidates, committeemen and women and precinct workers are requested to attend the special candidates night this evening at 8:30 at the Ruth Smucker House, sponsored by the Women's Democratic Club.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I have been getting an awful lot of complaints on this Kelly Park road again. I haven't said much about it because many of those who use it come here to the Country Store and it would look like I am wanting something that would be of too much benefit to me.

The road is getting very rough. It really should have been at least seal coated this year but this new Lake to River road will perhaps cut up part of it so they don't want to put much in it is what I have been thinking.

Someone suggested we take the trustees and tie them on the back of a car and pull them over the bumps. I wouldn't want to do that, most of them are good customers of mine and nice fellows.

Maybe just a ride over it would convince them.

County Health Board Names Dr. Kravec To TB Post

Columbiana County Board of Health Monday evening approved Dr. F. G. Kravec of Youngstown as county deputy tuberculosis controller.

County commissioners had requested his appointment after the four city health districts, East Liverpool, Wellsburg, Salem and East Palestine, agreed to the proposed action.

Dr. Kravec said in this manner the county could institute a uniform program of TB control. A four-tenths mill levy for the operation of the TB clinic is on the November ballots.

Harry Stockdale of East Liverpool, county sanitarian, reported on his two recent visits to the Nease Chemical Company plant, north of Salem, which had been ordered to abate a fumes nuisance. He advised the board he found a vast improvement.

He also discussed a complaint regarding a dog kennel near Leetonia.

The board discussed areas which need central sewage and water systems in Columbiana County. They listed Homeworth, the Westville Lake area, Salineville, Hanoverton, Summitville and Guilford Lake.

Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, requested and was given a leave of absence from Feb. 1, 1964, to Jan. 1, 1965, and Mrs. Thirza Bailey, county registrar, was allowed expenses to attend the Ohio State Registrars and Clerks meeting in Mansfield Monday through Wednesday.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, reported the health department had issued 52 plumbing and 57 sewage permits during the month. Reports of their month's activities also were presented by Stockdale, E. E. Cover, plumbing inspector, and Mrs. Peterson.

Bills totaling $3,435 were ordered paid. Visitors at the meeting were Albert Hanna of Salem, Floyd Lower of Lisbon and Steve Barborak of West Point.

The board's next session will be Nov. 18 at 8 p.m.

With Patients

Harold Diehl, 33, of RD 3, Salem, an employee of the Firestone Electric Company, is in fair condition in Central Clinic Hospital where he was admitted at 3:30 p.m. Monday for treatment of possible fractures of the left wrist, right leg and back, suffered when he fell 20 feet from a ladder while on a job at the Electric Furnace Co. plant.

Fred Shimer, two-year-old son of Frederick Shimer Sr. of Deerfield, is in fairly good condition in Alliance City Hospital where he was admitted at noon Monday for treatment of an injured right hand received when he fell on a bottle.

Virgil Ayers, 40, of RD 2, Salem, who received extensive injuries to his right hand when he caught it in a corn picker, is in fair condition in the Alliance hospital where he was admitted at 4 p.m. Monday for surgery.

Robert Stull, 29, of RD 1, North Benton, was treated at the Alliance hospital at 2:30 p.m. Sunday for an injury to his right thumb received while at work at the General Motors Co. plant at Cleveland.

Fred Lockhart, 42, of North Benton, had his scalp lacerated when hit by a falling object while at work at the Purity Dairy. He was treated at 6 p.m. Monday at the Alliance hospital.

Mrs. Allie Stewart of Homeworth, who was injured in an auto accident Sunday, remains in critical condition in Salem Central Clinic. Mrs. Loretta Stewart of Canton, who was injured in the same accident, is in fair condition in the Central Clinic.

over 7,000—about one-third last fall's top strength—and "those remaining are largely engaged in training and advising Cuban units," according to the Pentagon.

Still in Cuba is a formidable array of up-to-date Soviet-supplied tanks, artillery, battlefield rockets, MIG fighters, missile-equipped patrol boats and anti-aircraft missiles.

The latest intelligence information indicates there has been no Soviet effort to reintroduce offensive missiles or bombers. The Pentagon says the old missile bases "are still in a state of disrepair." There is no reason to believe, it is indicated, that strategic missiles are stored in caves.

Everything that moves in or around Cuba is under constant reconnaissance. The island is regularly photographed by U2s. The Navy maintains an air and surface patrol around the passages leading toward Cuba's ports. The Guantanamo naval base has been strengthened.

The Army has a Nike Hercules anti-aircraft missile battalion and two Hawk air defense missile battalions in the Miami-Homestead Air Force Base area and Key West regions.

A detachment of four F102 jet interceptors at Homestead has been increased to a squadron of 24 faster F104 jets.

More powerful radar is being installed at McCoy Air Force Base in Florida and a squadron of radar picket planes has been added.

U.S. authorities apparently believe the military threat from Cuba has been contained. But it hasn't been eliminated.

Until all Soviet forces are removed from Cuba, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said recently, they will be a "source of danger to the hemisphere."

DONORS STILL NEEDED

Sixty-five more donors are needed to fill the quota of 125 persons to blood for the appearance of the Northern Ohio Red Cross Bloodmobile Thursday from noon until 6 p.m. at the Steelworkers hall.

Louis Raymond, chairman of the program, requests that industrial recruitment reports be turned in immediately, and that prospective donors make an appointment with the Red Cross office.

Survivors include Mrs. Houk; another daughter, Mrs. Harry McCaslin of New Wilmington, Pa.; and two sons, Ralph and Cecil, both of New Castle. J. Candler Peoples of Cuyahoga Falls, father of Mrs. Thomas A. Kneifel of Salem, died Saturday. Services were held today at Cuyahoga Falls, with burial at Lebanon, Ky.

600 At Greenford School Open House

GREENFORD — Almost 600 persons from the Greenford School District heard Supt. Woodrow W. Bailey explain the board's financial situation and then toured the new elementary wing Monday night.

The speech and walk-around was part of the program of the Greenford Parent-Teachers Association, presided over by Charles Marks.

The new addition housing elementary and kindergarten classes was completed this summer after voters passed a $165,000 bond issue last fall.

Bailey outlined the reasons behind the Board of Education's decision to place a 4.8 renewal operating levy and a matching new levy on the ballot. He said the reappraisal of the district will mean a loss of more than $20,000 a year from the State Foundation. "The renewal levy will bring us out of the red, and the new levy will be needed to provide funds for additional expenses," the superintendent told parents and teachers.

The girls' chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Eva Haskin, elementary music teacher, presented a number of songs.

Coroner Withholds Ruling In Shooting

Dr. William A. Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner, said today that the shooting death of James A. (Thumb) Moore, 18, of Black's Road, four miles south of Lisbon, Saturday "appears to have been accidental."

The coroner added, however, that no ruling will be given until the formal investigation, now under way, is completed.

Moore was shot in the abdomen with a .22 caliber bullet fired from a gun he and Russell Beaver, 14, a neighbor, were preparing to use for target shooting at about 8:30 p.m.

According to Columbiana County Deputy Sheriff James Gause, Beaver said he and Moore were pointing the rifle at sheds and trees. He said Moore had the gun in his hands, pulling the trigger but it didn't fire. Moore then handed the gun to Beaver and the gun discharged, wounding him fatally.

Franklin PTA Hears Talk By Judge Tobin

Judge Louis Tobin spoke on "Juvenile Problems in the County as They Affect Our Area" when the Franklin Parent-Teacher Organization met Monday at the school.

One hundred parents and children were present. Fifth and sixth grade rooms won the attendance banner. Mrs. Marjorie Roberts is teacher.

Mrs. Charles Crawford presided. The group decided to sponsor a masquerade dance Nov. 2 at 9 p.m. at St. John's parish hall. Prizes will be given. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Binsley will be in charge of preparations.

Next meeting will be Nov. 18 with the second grade room mothers in charge of refreshments.

Franklin Trustees Get Road Reports

Reports were made on the completion of two road projects when Franklin Township trustees met Monday.

First project was the widening of curbs and removal of trees near a narrow bridge along the Floyd Hill farm of Township Road 729. Trees and brush have also been removed and the banks sloped along the Ed Bryan farm on Twp. Rd. 846.

Bills totaling $1,163 were approved to be paid. John Wargo was excused from attending the meeting.

Next meeting is Nov. 4.

West Point PTA Has Levy Discussion

WEST POINT — Fifty-five attended the meeting of the Parent Teachers Association Monday evening when William Conrad presided.

Dr. George VanHorne, executive head of Beaver Local School District, told of the levy to be voted on Nov. 5.

Mrs. Veronica Wolski and W. Clayton Aughenbaugh, candidates for the Beaver Local school board, also spoke.

Burrell Reeder of Lisbon, representing the Junior Order United American Mechanics, presented an American flag to Mrs. Mary Steffen, principal, for the school.

The Parent-Teachers Association will purchase lumber for a stage and Dr. VanHorne will see that it is built for the all-purpose room at the school.

Mrs. Virginia Campbell's first grade room won the attendance banner and the mothers of fourth graders served refreshments.

The association's next meeting will be Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

Muscular Dystrophy Association Meets

Bills totaling $207.72 were paid when the Columbiana County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. met Monday at the V. F. W. Home on Arch St.

Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, Columbiana County drive chairman, and Mrs. Alice Hawks and Mrs. Robert Hartford, co-chairmen for East Palestine, were present.

Other area chairmen include Miss Catherine McKee of Lisbon, Mrs. George Boston of Washingtonville, Mrs. Charles Lindsey of New Waterford, Mrs. Leo Jenkins for Middletown Township and Negley and Mrs. O. Earl Greenawalt of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Jenkins told of service work for the past month and gave a report on a visit to Shadyside Hospital in Pittsburgh with two patients.

North Georgetown

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Stoffer and Mrs. Martha Turner of Alliance and Mrs. Stanley Sterling of Canfield visited Sunday with Mrs. Mary Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Wearstler of Alliance and Miss Margaret Ann Hollibaugh of Akron were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stoffer.

Miss Nancy Streeper of Furlong, Pa., is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boone.

Sunday night was the first in a series of family nights held at the First Brethren Church. A casserole supper was served at 6:30 p.m. During the program hour, color slides were shown on Hawaii.

Evangelistic services are being held each night this week with former pastor, Robert L. Hoffman of Meyersdale, Pa. in charge. There will be special music each evening.

Next Sunday, Holy Communion will be held at 8 p.m. and the laymen's rally will be held in Ashland, Monday.

EMMANUEL Lutheran Church concluded its 150th anniversary celebration with a banquet at Knox School.

The celebration ended with the ringing of the old bell which was used when the old Lutheran Church stood on the hill in North Georgetown. The bell dates back to 1870 and was used to call the congregation to worship as the 150th anniversary began Oct. 13.

The bell will be installed in the new education unit now under construction. More than 200 persons attended the morning worship service.

Mrs. Dale Barnett served as general chairman for the banquet. Rev. George Keister, former minister of the church, now retired, gave the invocation.

The table was decorated with styrofoam Bibles with the 150th anniversary inscribed on them. The congregation presented Rev. and Mrs. Runk a commemorative gift.

Car, Truck Involved In Rt. 62 Collision

A truck and a car were involved in a highway mishap today at 8:30 a.m. on Route 62, one mile west of Salem at the foot of Blackburn hill, but no one was apparently injured.

The auto, smashed in the rear, ended up in the ditch on the south side of the road while the truck came to a halt on the north side, a witness said. Details from the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway were not available. Patrolman R. D. Delagrangue conducted the investigation.

Next meeting is Nov. 4.

W. Branch Club's 'Tag Day' Nets $600 For Band

Routine business was conducted when the West Branch Band Mothers met Monday at the high school.

Announcement was made that additional raincoats which were purchased have arrived and that the fruitcakes to be sold by members have arrived.

"Tag Day" in Alliance over the weekend was considered a great success with over $600 cleared. The group will hold Tag Day in Salem Nov. 8 and 9 and also a benefit in Salem Nov. 15 and 16. Plans were also made to serve the Mahoning County 4-H advisers banquet at the school Nov. 7.

Mrs. LaVern Hahlen was elected vice-president of the club.

A representative of the Klein and Roderick clothing store of Alliance discussed the service policy on uniforms purchased there.

Next meeting will be Nov. 18 at the school. Lunch committee will be composed of Mrs. Lowell Buckman, Mrs. Wilma Herbert, Mrs. Mary Markovich and Mrs. Donald Sams.

Diplomats

The situation, with the allies appears to be a more complicated one. It will be Secretary of State Dean Rusk's task to find out, and soon, what if any changes in foreign policy the new governments in Britain and Germany represent.

No dramatic changes are expected, officials here said, but there may be skirmishes between the allies on a number of issues. Officials pointed out that differences between the four major Western capitals are always more accentuated before NATO's ministers convene—the council is due to meet in Paris in December—and the Big Lift appears to contribute to existing misunderstandings.

The Kennedy administration is still hoping that by early 1964 it will have a decisive answer from its allies on whether they want to go ahead with the multi-nation nuclear fleet, whether they have some other ideas or whether they want to scrap the plan.

Another problem is West Germany's concern that if Big Lift is successful—thereby proving the United States can swiftly reinforce Europe from bases in the United States—the U.S. force in Germany will be reduced.

State Department officials privately concede it will not be easy to convince Bonn that this is not the case. They blame remarks by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric for stirring up the suspicion.

The Big Lift is expected to enable the United States to carry out "some shifts in the form of our military presence" in Europe, Gilpatric said in a Chicago speech last Saturday.

The speech caused considerable concern in Germany—and some confusion in Washington. The State Department, it was learned, did not agree with this part of Gilpatric's speech, but its objections were overruled by the White House. State Department officials insist there is no immediate plan for troop reductions.

The speculation about a possible reduction in U.S. forces got another boost Monday with the Army's announcement that its overseas units will be given more nuclear firepower.

The Army said ground forces in Europe and the Far East will be equipped with additional units of Sergeant missiles, an improved type of Honest John rockets and more atomic warheads for eight-inch howitzers.

The limitations were put in the Senate measure in deference to senators who felt that grants to religious colleges could well violate the separation of church and state doctrine.

Both versions of the measure contain grant and loan funds for new classrooms in public and private four-year colleges, community, junior colleges, technical institutes and graduate schools.

her even closer to the Fog. The cutter Casco radioed Coast Guard area headquarters in New York that the 10 men aboard the Navy ship apparently had come to no harm.

The auxiliary ocean-going tug Salish was pulling the Fog through hurricane-lashed seas when the tow line parted 45 miles southeast of Cape Lookout, N.C.

The Fog, in mothball-storage condition, was en route from Hampton Roads, Va., to Mayport, Fla., to join the reserve fleet. She has been inactive since 1947.

"We won't be able to tie onto her until the weather abates," a Navy spokesman said in New York.

Hurricane Ginny continued to lash the North Carolina coast. She was reported about 150 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., after remaining in a small area throughout Monday.

Ginny was following an erratic course that could take her out to sea.

Residents of North Carolina's off-shore islands rode out the storm with few actual hurricane precautions. Businesses and schools opened as usual.

Four wise rules for investing and how to use them

If you think the key to sensible investing is in the hands of "experts" only, here's an agreeable surprise.

Anybody can quickly learn four basic rules for what never to do—and what always to do—when acquiring stock.

Here they are:

Never get in over your head with money you can't afford to invest.

Always manage your money with an eye on both today and tomorrow. Living expenses have first call on your income. Then comes provision for emergencies. These cared for, you may be ready to consider investing.

Never be careless in choosing your broker.

Always look for a broker in whose experience or training you feel you can have confidence. If you select a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange, for example, you will have the help of a firm subject to Exchange regulations. And of a broker (Registered Representative) who had to meet Exchange qualifications to become a broker in a Member Firm.

Don't expect all Member Firms to be alike. Or brokers to be infallible. Do expect your Member Firm broker to place his firm's knowledge and experience at your service.
